VIAL OF TEARS

BY CRISTIN BISHARA

YA FICTION

October 5, 2021

In this lush and dangerous Phoenician mythology-inspired fantasy, a cursed coin traps two sisters in the underworld, where they encounter deities, shapeshifters, and ghouls.

Sixteen-year-old sisters Samira and Rima aren't exactly living the dream. Nope. Instead, they live with their maddeningly unreliable mother in a rundown trailer. Dad's dead, money's tight, and Mom disappears for days at a time. So when Sam's grandfather wills her the family valuables—a little cache of Lebanese antiquities sent to Glen Arbor by way of Beirut—she's desperate enough to try pawning them before Mom can.

But she shouldn't. Because one is the cursed, forbidden, burial coin of a forgotten god. Disturbing it condemns her and Rima to the Phoenician underworld, a place of wicked cities, burning cedar forests, poisoned feasts of milk and lemons, and an endless, windless ocean. Nothing is what it seems. No one is who they say. And down here, night never ends.

To get home—and keep her sister safe—Sam will have to outwit beautiful shapeshifters, pose as a royal bride, sail the darkest sea... and maybe kill the god of death himself.

CRISTIN BISHARA is a writer of young adult fiction. Her novel, Relativity, was called “perfect for readers wanting more scientific depth to their science fiction” by Booklist. She has worked as a copyeditor and taught writing at the university level.

San Solano is a quaint town known for its charm, hospitality, and history of murder. Twice now, twelve men have been brutally killed, and no one knows who did it.

Eighteen-year-old Natalie Colter is sure that the rumors about her great-great-grandmother’s circle of wronged women are just gossip, but that doesn’t stop the true crime writers from capitalizing on the town’s reputation. It’s an urban legend that’s hard to ignore, and it gets harder when Nat learns that the sisterhood is real, and magical. And they want her to join. When people in the town start getting “marked” as new victims—including Levi Langford, the boy whose kiss haunted Nat for a year, Nat knows she has to do something. Can she and the sisterhood stop the true evil from claiming their town?

SALT MAGIC

BY HOPE LARSON,ART BY REBECCA MOCK

When a jealous witch curses her family's well, it's up to Vonceil to set things right in an epic journey that will leave her changed forever.

"The best comics reading experience I've had in a long time." —Ben Hatke, author-illustrator of #1 New York Times Bestselling Zita the Spacegirl series

"[F]illed with fantasy and imagination and ground it with great humanity and depth. A book to return to over and over again." —Jen Wang, author-illustrator of the Eisner award-winning The Prince and the Dressmaker

When Vonceil's older brother, Elber, comes home to their family's farm after serving on the front lines of World War I, things aren't what she expects. His experiences have changed him into a serious and responsible man who doesn't have time for Vonceil anymore. He even marries the girl he had left behind.

Then a mysterious and captivating woman shows up at the farm and confronts Elber for leaving her in France. When he refuses to leave his wife, she puts a curse on the family well, turning the entire town's water supply into saltwater. Who is this lady dressed all in white, what has she done to the farm, and what does Vonceil's old uncle Dell know about her?

To find out, Vonceil will have to strike out on her own and delve deep into the world of witchcraft, confronting dangerous relatives, shapeshifting animals, a capricious Sugar Witch, and the Lady in White herself—the foreboding Salt Witch. The journey will change Vonceil, but along the way she'll learn a lot about love and what it means to grow up.

RED

BY LAURA VACCARO SEEGER

From two-time Caldecott Honor Award winning author-illustrator of Green and Blue comes Red, the story of a lone fox separated from his pack that deals with emotions like fear and anger through color.

In this simple, sumptuously illustrated companion to the Caldecott Honor Book Green and the highly acclaimed Blue, award-winning artist Laura Vaccaro Seeger once again turns her attention to the ways in which color evokes emotion, in this case, anger, fear, hostility, and ultimately love in a story of a fox trying to return to its family. Lost and alone, he makes his way through a dark forest, injures his paw, and finds himself trapped in a cage, before an act of kindness returns him to the wilderness.

LAURA VACCARO SEEGER is the author Why, which received four starred reviews, and the popular Dog and Bear series, the first of which won the Boston Globe Horn Book Medal. She has been awarded a Caldecott Honor twice and a Geisel Honor twice.
